

Are you a silent sufferer from Chronic Lower Abdominal, Groin or Pelvic Pain?

- Are you a sportsman (soccer player, hockey player, football player etc.) with chronic groin pain or diagnosed to have sportsman hernia?
- Are you diagnosed to have chronic infection of prostate or testicles?
- Are you female with chronic lower abdominal, groin or pelvic pain? Have you had multiple lower abdominal surgeries for endometriosis, pelvic congestion syndrome, adhesions etc. and continue to have pain.
- Do you have Dyspareunia (painful sex)?

You may have POPSS Syndrome and you can get help!

Diagnosis is usually made by a simple exam – without blood work or x-ray- 30 to 40 minutes and confirmed with strategically placed steroid injections. Treatment for POPSS Syndrome does not require surgery.

Nearly 85 to 90% of the patients are helped with a multidisciplinary approach.

Board certified General Surgeon with 20 years experience can help you.
